Plymouth Congregational Church.
Walter E. Lanphear as Pastor.

The Plymouth Congregational church of Hartford at a business meeting following a prayer meeting Thursday evening passed a unanimous vote to extend a call to the pastorate of Rev. Walter E. Lanphear of Mansfield Center, minister of the Congregational church in that village.

The action was taken upon recommendation of the pulpit supply committee. Rev. Mr. Lanphear preached in the church two Sundays ago. It is desired that he assume his duties Jan. 1st.

Rev. Mr. Lanphear has not yet resigned his pastorate charge. Rev. Mr. Lanphear is a native of Chaplin, born in 1865. His father was a blacksmith. When he was 13 years old he worked out upon a farm by the month. For two or three years he went to school in the winter and assisted his father in the shop. At 19 he worked at carpentering for three seasons in North Windham and South Manchester. He was graduated in 1891 from the school for religious workers in Springfield, Mass. now known as the Hartford school of religious pedagogy. For three years he was a minister under the American Sunday School union in Maine and Iowa. In 1894 he married Miss Alida H. Martin of Chaplin. In that year he was ordained pastor of a church in Massville, Conn. and went to Oberlin college in 1895 for further study. He received the degree of bachelor of arts and bachelor of divinity.

Adopt a Plan

A definite plan is the foundation of success in saving.

It doesn't make much difference what the plan of saving is, so long as it's systematic. Some people never spend the dime they get—they put them in a convenient home savings bank.

Some men shave themselves and drop into the bank the money they would have to pay the barber. Others walk to the office and save the carfare.

You can select any plan which suits you. Regularity in your saving is the essential thing.

One dollar opens an account and starts your savings earning interest. BEGIN NOW.

New Wrinkle Remover
In Great Demand
(National Drug Review)
The announcement of the saxolite discovery with reference to the removal of wrinkles seems to have been followed by an unprecedented demand for this wonderful substance. The latest scientific discovery has brought about a new era in the history of beauty. Its use immediately and effectively reducing all wrinkles and harmlessness, its inexpensiveness and entire safety have brought it into the salutation into general use in this country. That any woman can easily and quickly prepare the skin and be another reason for its popularity.
Druggists in every section report extraordinary demand.

The approved formula is: Powdered saxolite, 1 ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, 1 pint. The solution is used as a face wash. Its use immediately causes a tightening of the facial skin and muscular tissue, tending to erase the wrinkles, draw in the sagging skin and reduce enlarged pores. Having tonic as well as astringent properties, and being cooling and soothing, it is beneficial in cases of neuralgia pains and headaches.

Where the Fruit Grows.
A politician in San Francisco who has been in office and on the city pay roll for many years was addressing a meeting of his fellow citizens. It was a labor meeting.

"You men must know," spouted the orator, "that you are the great body politic in this city. You are the roots and trunk of our great municipal tree, while we who represent you in office are merely branches on that magnificent tree."

"True for you," piped a man in the back of the hall. "But did you ever notice all the fruit grows on the branches?"—Saturday Evening Post.

As Far as He Got.
One day when William M. Everts, secretary of state under President Hayes, was a college student he was called on to read Vergil in class.

He started out bravely: "Three times I strove to cast my arms around her neck, and—adding—family—
"that's as far as I got, professor."

"Well, Mr. Everts," said the professor, "I think that was quite far enough."
